

Hot Candidates!

Whangarei Workforce and Skills

How do skill levels in Whangarei District compare with New Zealand?

A region that can offer high skilled jobs can generally offer a higher standard of living to its residents. It also has a better chance of retaining its residents and attracting new skills.

What is the occupational structure of employment in Whangarei District?

- Professionals accounted for the largest share of employment (23%) in Whangarei District, which is higher than New Zealand (23%)
- Managers accounted for the second largest share of employment (18%) in Whangarei District, which is lower than New Zealand (19%)
- Machinery operators and drivers accounted for the lowest share of employment (18%) in Whangarei District, which is lower than New Zealand (19%)

Qualifications in demand?

- The greatest demand in Whangarei District in 2016 was for qualifications at the level of Certificate (Levels 1-3).
- By field of study, the highest demand was for Engineering and related technologies.

Further information can be found on <https://www.northlandnz.com/business/economic-rofile/infometrics>

New recruits

Team Leader Natural leadership skills and is consistently recognized for this. Can be relied upon to take the initiative. Motivated with a background in hands on roles. Presentable, personable - also great communication skills. Available with a week's notice.

Frontline / Reception High communication, presentation and personality. Background in administration in a variety of industries including in the automotive industry. Exceptional customer service skills – going that extra mile. Available immediately.

Sales / Marketing Team orientated and results driven professional, able to perform in a high volume and fast paced environment. Background in media and communications including social media. Available immediately.

Accounts / Administration An experienced professional with highly developed problem-solving skills. Background in finance within a variety of industries. Excellent attention to detail. Available with notice.

Office Manager Experienced in all aspects of office requirement. Enjoys analysis and stats. Thrives on responsibility and able to see the big picture. Enjoys managing systems and data for financial and contractual requirements. Available immediately.

Health & Safety Strong background assisting large companies achieve current health and safety requirements. Excellent attention to detail and results focused. Currently on assignment – call for next available dates.

Purchasing / Logistics Experienced in all aspects of inventory control, stock procurement and freighting. Has a client based focus and comprehensive supply/demand knowledge. With an enthusiastic approach and strong computer skills. Two weeks' notice required.

Secretary / Office Manager A strong background in customer service and administration roles in government, corporate and small business. Self-managing, focused on achieving tasks in a timely manner. Good computer skills. Available with notice.